BOISE, Idaho, June 6.—Harry Orchard to-day told the jury trying William D. Haywood for his life that not only had he killed Gov. Steuneherg, but that he had inade several attempts to assissinate former Gov. Petabody. Or Colorado. He also told or attempts made on the life of Supreme Court Justice Gabbert, of Colorado, and of other persons, who according to his statement, were marked for sacrifice by the "inner circle" of the Western Relevation of Miners.

"Haywood suggested," Orchard sid, "that we ought to 'get' expected by the statement of the same thing as who is the same thing as the life of the colorate of the same thing as Steuneherg, it would show them they were not forgotten and would have a colorate of the same thing as Steuneherg, it would show them they would never know the moment about the would brief sudden of the most of the same thing as Steuneherg, it would show them they would never know the moment about the would brief sudden of the them.
